BlueSpiceSaferEdit

SaferEdit automatically saves a page at predetermined intervals while users are in edit mode.

Contents

1 Usage / features ................................................................. 1
2 Technical information ......................................................... 1
  2.1 Configuration .............................................................. 1
  2.2 Rights (permissions) ........................................................ 2
  2.3 Requirements ............................................................. 2
3 More info ........................................................................... 2
4 Demo ................................................................................ 2

Usage / features

This extension provides a built-in browser confirmation dialog when leaving a page without unsaved changes.

Technical information

Configuration

Administrators can set the default recovery interval and whether to show the name of the current editor in the Config Manager.
Rights (permissions)

This extension does not require any special rights.

Requirements

SaferEdit requires BlueSpiceFoundation.

More info

For a detailed description and usage info, visit our help page.

Demo

You can try leaving a page without saving it in our BlueSpiceDemo.