Notifications page

The following features are available:

- 1 - Recent activity: The filter lists notifications by page. Clicking on a page name will only show the notifications for that page.
- 2 - Status filter: You can view all notifications as well as read or unread notifications.
- 3 - Settings menu: Here you can go to the settings page to choose the type of notifications you want to receive.
- 4 - Notification: Clicking on a notification will mark it as read. Alternatively, you can click the blue status icon. Read notifications are marked with a dark background and a blank status icon.

The following settings are available:

- E-Mail options:
 - Send me: Frequency of notifications (none, immediately, daily, weekly)
 - Send to: If you enter or change the e-mail address here, it will be changed for the entire wiki (i.e., under your profile data).
 - Email format: (HTML or plain text)
- Notify me about these events: E-mail and wiki notifications for different events can optionally be activated or deactivated here. You can see a description of the event by clicking on the info icon. Grayed out checkboxes cannot be activated or deactivated and are set the same for all users.
- Notifications on namespace events (always both in e-mail and in the wiki):
 - when creating pages in a namespace when editing pages in a namespace
- Notifications on categories (always both in e-mail and in the wiki):
 - when a page is added or removed from a category listed here
 - when a change is made to a page associated with that category
