

Category check

The category check requires users to confirm the categorization of the article each time the page is saved.

Activating the category check

---

To use this function, an administrator must first activate this feature in the namespace manager for a selected namespace.

Checking the categories of a page

When a user is ready to save a page with category check enabled, the confirmation has to be checked so that the page can be saved:

If the user wants to update the categories before saving the page, the dialog can be closed by clicking the x-button in the left corner. The categories can be updated from the options menu of the editor toolbar:
