Contents

Category check

The category check requires users to confirm the categorization of the article each time the page is saved.

Activating the category check

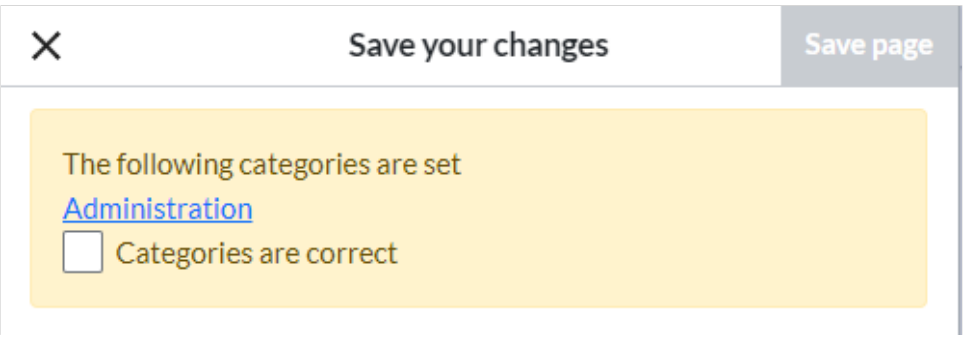

To use this function, an administrator must first activate this feature in the namespace manager for a selected namespace.

Activating the category check

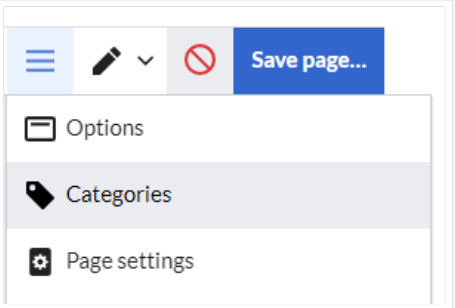

Checking the categories of a page

When a user is ready to save a page with catgegory check enabled, the confirmation has to be checked so that the page can be saved:

Required category check

If the user wants to update the categories before saving the page, the dialog can be closed by clicking the x-button in the left corner. The categories can be updated from the options menu of the editor toolbar:

Changing the page categories

Technical Reference: BlueSpiceCategoryCheck