Features

The LoginNotify extension notifies users in some instances when someone logs into their your account.

Usage / Features

The extension notifies users when someone logs into their account from an unknown device or from an unknown IP address. Unsuccessful login attempts via known devices can also trigger a notification.

Technical information

---

Configuration

The extension can be configured so that warnings are issued after a certain number of failed login attempts (the number is configurable and can differ between unknown IPs / devices and known IPs / devices). There can also be echo notifications (which can also be sent via email) for successful logins from IPs that a user does not normally use.
